MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Paul J. LeBlanc
*University President and CEO
Southern New Hampshire University*

Dear graduates, family, and friends,

2023 marks my 20th year with Southern New Hampshire University. When I think back to my first year and the 2,800 learners we served, I am astounded that we are recognizing over 22,000 graduates this Fall!

Over the years, the number of graduates and ceremonies may have increased, but one thing has not changed: SNHU graduates are an amazing, determined, and tenacious group. We are immensely proud of you.

Whether you join us in Manchester, New Hampshire for our ceremonies; participate in a ceremony on a military base or in a refugee camp; hold celebrations at home with family and friends; or if obligations prevent you from marking the occasion, I hope you take a moment to reflect on what you have achieved. Your hard work and perseverance paid off and you earned your college degree – something no one can ever take away from you.

Make sure you also take a moment to recognize those that supported you in this journey. No graduate makes it to the finish line alone.

A TRADITION STEEPED IN HISTORY

COMMENCEMENT PROCESSION

A procession of the various participants begins and ends our formal commencement ceremony. Individuals are arranged to reflect the order of academic rank in the hierarchy of the traditional European university.

At SNHU, the Mace Bearer leads the procession. He or she is followed by the Faculty Marshals, the Platform Party, and then the Faculty of the schools arranged in order of seniority, beginning with the senior faculty. The procession is concluded by the degree candidates. They enter in groups representing their schools/units, led by a gonfalon (flag) and walking in rank.

CEREMONIAL MACE

The mace was first used as a weapon. The word comes from the Latin ‘mateola,’ meaning mallet or staff. It consisted of a long club with a ball of steel or brass at one end. As newer weapons came into use, the mace lost its prime purpose as an instrument of war; however, it had become a symbol of authority and power. Universities in Europe with roots in the Middle Ages adopted maces as symbols of authority and unity. Since then, other institutions of higher learning have come to use the mace in their ceremonies.

Southern New Hampshire University commissioned David Elwell, a New Hampshire silversmith, to create a mace to commemorate the university's 50th anniversary commencement. This mace is made of brass, aluminum, copper, and bronze, with a staff of ebony and African padauk.

THE PRESIDENTIAL MEDALLION

The Presidential Medallion, worn by the president with academic regalia, is a symbolic representation of the authority and responsibility vested by the university in the president. It is a symbol of office that dates from medieval times and is worn by the president at all ceremonial occasions.

The Presidential Medallion is a permanent possession of the university and is presented to successive presidents at their inaugurations by the chairman of the Board of Trustees. The chain and medallion are fabricated from sterling silver. The university emblem, in relief, is the central design on the medallion. It is surrounded by a border of entwined wires, similar in texture to the chain links, and finished with a square raised edge. The heavy, twisted links of the chain bear four oval plates on each side. The background of the entire piece is oxidized to highlight the relief design and textures. The names of those who have held the office are engraved on the reverse side of the medallion.

The Presidential Medallion was designed and fabricated in 1987 by award-winning New Hampshire metalsmith Jacquelyn Ferrency of Milford.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

The academic costume worn today originated in the universities of the Middle Ages, when a warm gown and hood were useful for scholars and clerics in unheated buildings. The distinctive gowns served to set students apart from their fellow citizens, hence the perennial controversy between ‘town and gown.’

Until after the Civil War, students at most American universities wore caps and gowns daily while in residence. These varied in design until they were standardized by the American Intercollegiate Commission in 1894. At that time it was decided that all robes would be black; bachelor’s gowns would have long, pointed sleeves; master’s gowns would have long, closed sleeves with slits for the arms at the elbows; and doctor’s gowns would have very full, bell-shaped sleeves, each with three velvet bands matching the velvet facing of the gown opening.

The length of hoods varies with the degree. The lining of the hood indicates the university by the colors. The border of the hood indicates the academic discipline in which the degree was earned.

Students who have studied abroad for one or more semesters will be wearing a sash with the colors of the flag of the country where they studied. The sashes are issued to signify the university's commitment to provide students with opportunities for acquiring international and cross-cultural experience.

Undergraduate learners that have received ceremonial and/or Latin honors will be wearing a gold cord.

Graduates that are serving in the military or are veterans will be wearing red, white and blue woven cords in recognition and appreciation of their service.

Participants in campus Undergraduate Research Day will be wearing a light blue cord.

Graduates that have provided academic support as peer educators will be wearing a royal blue cord.

Many cords are representative of membership in a recognized National Honor Society; a full list is found on subsequent pages.

The colors for academic fields established by the American Council on Education include:

Agriculture	maize
Arts, Letters and Humanities	white
Business, Commerce and Accounting	drab
Dentistry	lilac
Economics	copper
Education	light blue
Engineering	orange
Fine Arts	brown
Forestry	russet
Journalism	crimson
Law	purple
Library Science	lemon
Medicine	green
Music	pink
Nursing	apricot
Oratory	silver gray
Pharmacy	olive green
Philosophy	dark blue
Physical Education	sage green
Public Administration	peacock blue
Science golden	yellow
Social Work	citron
Theology	scarlet
Veterinary Science	gray

(Caps and gowns representing degrees from foreign universities may be quite different from those described. The most obvious difference may be in the cap, which is often a soft, round hat of the style worn by medieval scholars.)

Bachelor of Arts, Summa Cum Laude

Good morning, President LeBlanc, Board of Trustees, distinguished faculty, staff, family, friends and fellow graduates...

How great is it to finally stop hearing, “You can do it!”? We are all surrounded by people who believe in us, but what a luxury, right? To have this undying belief when we had many moments where we weren’t too sure. See, that’s what makes a great story. The ups and downs, the unknowns.

As I stand here today, I don’t just see classmates and fellow alumni, I see storytellers. The “Realization Chapter” where the mother thinks to herself “What’s a few more sleepless nights? Let me take some classes.” The “Hopeful Chapter” where the person decided it was time for a new challenge. Or “The Inner Child Chapter” where a kid wanting to make his aunt proud, decides to give college one last try.

At the age of four, I, along with my brothers and sisters, was taken in by my aunt, Shirley Brandon. A woman who saw three young children standing at her door in the middle of the night and took them in and gave them a home. I didn’t have a mom and dad growing up, I had an Aunt Shirley. It would take me a long time to understand how truly lucky I was.

I struggled mightily in high school. My senior graduation consisted of me standing in my counselor’s office getting my transcript stamped with “Graduated” at the end of summer school. So, this is the first time I’ve ever been to a graduation where my name will be called. I still must hear it to believe it!

My aunt always valued education and years later, after many failed attempts, I enrolled in college, Chapter SNHU. I thought this would be a thank you to my aunt. She will finally be able to see me walk across a stage! But then came Chapter July 7th, 2022, a text from my brother, “Aunt Shirley is gone”. Her cancer was fast and intentional. One year away. I was close! I was so close.

That belief she had in me was the reason I started. It is the reason I’m standing before you today. It’s important to ask yourself this question, what was my reason for starting? Your reason helps define your story. It’s what anchors your sense of purpose and fulfillment when waves of doubt creep in. Our reasons for being here today may look different but our “why’s” are all the same. Why are you here? Why are we here? There’s only one answer. I deserve to be here! We deserve to be here.

We all have stories to tell. Some of pain and grief, and some of doubt and fear. But this chapter...Chapter November 18th, 2023! This chapter is triumph! From you can do it to we did it!

Thank you to my wife Renee, my daughter Dez, and my three boys, BJ, Kyrie, and Kingston! You are the best of me. Thank you SNHU for this incredible honor! And thanks to all of you, for being a part of my story and allowing me to be a part of yours! Aunt Shirley, this is for you!! Thank you and congratulations Class of 2023!

STUDENT SPEAKER

TIFFANY MARIE LOWE

Bachelor of Arts, Summa Cum Laude

Good afternoon, President LeBlanc, Board of Trustees, esteemed faculty, staff, proud family members, friends, and my fellow SNHU graduates,

I am sincerely grateful for this opportunity to address you all. It's a privilege to share part of my journey, but more importantly, to celebrate the remarkable stories of each graduate here today.

My path to this moment was not typical. Unlike many first-generation college students here: bravo, by the way; I grew up in a family where outstanding accomplishments were the norm. For years, I questioned whether I could measure up to their achievements. My journey was also marked by deep personal trauma, a challenge that left me wondering if I would ever be more than a black sheep.

But then came SNHU, a place that played a pivotal role in my healing journey. It was here that I not only excelled academically, as a single mother, but also discovered something even more profound – my own self-worth. I learned to stop measuring my value by the standards of others and started recognizing the greatness within myself.

I want to take a moment to express my heartfelt gratitude to my dad and daughters, who are here with me today. I want to say to my daughters, I hope they always believe in themselves and their worth. But, if they don't, I hope they know that I do, just as my dad did in me. Thank you, I love you.

As I stand here today, I am reminded of the incredible diversity within our graduating class. Each of us comes from a unique background with our own set of challenges and triumphs. It's this diversity that makes our collective story so extraordinary.

What I want to emphasize is this: Every single story in this room is worth being told. Each journey is special in its own way. You see, it's easy to look at the accomplishments of others and think that their stories are more impressive or more important. But that couldn't be further from the truth. Our strength lies in our differences, where we find inspiration, resilience, and the power to overcome.

So, fellow graduates, I encourage you to share your stories. Embrace your individuality and recognize the value in your experiences. Your perspective is a gift. Your journey, with all its ups and downs, has shaped you into the incredible person you are today.

In conclusion, let us remember that this moment is not just about the destination but also the journeys that brought us here. Just as we've learned to understand others, let us also strive to understand ourselves, for in our self-discovery, we find our power. As we step into the next chapter of our lives, let us carry this message with us – that we are all one-of-a-kind, and our stories have the power to inspire and change the world.

Congratulations to the truly exceptional Class of 2023. Thank you.

STUDENT SPEAKER

SAKINA BROWN

Master of Science

Greetings to President LeBlanc, Board of Trustees, esteemed professors, dedicated staff, and cherished well-wishers. A special shout-out to my fellow graduates: You made it! How often have we dreamt of this day and the emotions it would evoke? This knowing that we confronted a formidable challenge and emerged victorious.

There were moments I doubted embarking on this journey. Overwhelmed by fear, I questioned: What if I fall flat on my face after taking this leap? The possibility of failure was intimidating. But a wise friend reminded me that fear had no place in my heart. They reminded me that I have taken on giants before, and I have slayed them all. Why should this challenge be any different? It brought to mind this quote from Winston Churchill "Success is not final, failure is not fatal: It is the courage to continue that counts."

You may have heard it before, but it made me wonder who I could be if I found the courage to continue. Would I truly allow cowardice and anxiety to write my story, or would I rise to the occasion? My standing here before you is proof that there is success beyond your fear and anxiety. Success is to keep going.

So, from approximately 1,755 miles away, on the beautiful island of Jamaica, I found a new family - my SNHU family. I extend my deepest gratitude to every staff member here. Despite the geographical divide, your unwavering support was a constant, enveloping presence. SNHU didn't just educate me - it reignited my passion for learning. Here, I discovered a community not solely focused on academic brilliance, but one that also emphasized camaraderie, shared experiences, and the forging of lasting bonds. It resonated with Jamaica's profound motto, 'Out of Many, One People'. We were one people on a journey.

As we stand on the threshold of our next adventure, let me echo the encouragement that once propelled me forward. Breathe in this moment. Relish in our shared accomplishment. Be proud of yourself. No voice or circumstance should belittle this monumental accomplishment. You have completed an extraordinary task. Our commitment, drive, and discipline have borne fruit. As the festivities unfold, don't view them as mere ceremonies. Instead, view them as affirmations of one undeniable fact – you are an overcomer.

In our future, there will undoubtedly be more mountains to climb, especially for those of us who have plans for world domination. But armed with this triumph, we're equipped to scale even the loftiest peaks. We've vanquished this giant, and we will do so time and time again. Congratulations to my fellow graduates, you are the class of Giant Slayers!

VIRTUAL STUDENT SPEAKER

JILLIAN BERNHARDT

Bachelor of Arts, Summa Cum Laude

President LeBlanc, Board of Trustees, esteemed faculty and staff, proud families, distinguished guests, and, of course, the extraordinary graduating class of 2023.

Today, we gather here, not in a grand auditorium with lofty ceilings and echoes of enthusiastic applause, but rather in the comfort of our virtual spaces, united by the magic of technology, the resilience of our human spirit, and even a few technical glitches along the way.

I have the distinct honor of sharing a journey that began with a dash of stardust. Picture this: a 7-year-old, navigating a world quite different from multiplication tables – a world of cameras, scripts, and applause. That was me, a child actor embarking on the wild and wonderful adventure of Hollywood.

Fast forward to today, and here I sit, not just as a fellow graduate but as someone who has danced to a unique tune of resilience throughout my academic journey. My path to this moment was far from conventional. SNHU was not my first try at college, rather, my third. I could never quite find the right program to fit with my unpredictable life. It took a global pandemic and several SNHU commercials to convince me I should return to school and finish my degree.

This unique online journey we've undertaken has been a masterclass in resilience. You see resilience isn't merely about bouncing back; it's about thriving in the face of adversity, learning from every challenge, and emerging stronger each time. For me, it's about juggling a thriving career from a young age, maneuvering the intricacies of Hollywood, and embracing the rigors of higher education.

Our academic journey may not have followed the well-trodden path, but it has equipped us with something invaluable: a resilient spirit. We've navigated spotty Wi-Fi connections and searched high and low for the perfect study-from-home spot (spoiler alert: it's not the kitchen if you can't resist the siren call of the fridge).

Through it all, we've displayed remarkable resilience, mastering the art of time management, adapting to the digital classroom, and finding the strength to persevere week after week, assignment after assignment. We've proven that resilience knows no boundaries, not even in the vast digital landscape.

As we stride into this new chapter of our lives, let's carry the lessons of resilience with a dash of flair. Let's embrace the unexpected with humor and an unwavering spirit of determination. Our journey has shown us that we can not only survive but we can THRIVE!

So, graduates, as we venture forward, let's remember that resilience is our secret weapon. It's the spark that ignites our success, the compass that guides us through uncharted waters.

Congratulations to each one of us, and may our future journeys be marked by the same tenacity that has brought us to this remarkable moment. Thank you, and here's to the future – a future filled with star-studded resilience and boundless possibilities.

COUNSELING PROGRAMS

Counseling Programs

The mission of the Clinical Mental Health Counseling Program is to empower new generations of counselors by transforming the lives of our students, and through them, the lives of the clients and communities they will serve. To achieve this, we deliver innovative, experiential counselor education, create an inclusive environment, and nurture authentic relationships. We recognize that earning a degree in counseling is more than just acquiring a base of knowledge and theories; it is about developing an identity as a healer.

The journey from novice to expert counselor takes many years. The completion of a master's degree is just one step in that journey; yet today, the faculty and staff of the Counseling program at SNHU are proud to present these students who have, by their hard work and perseverance, demonstrated they are ready to take the next step in their journeys, well prepared to have a positive impact on the lives of others, and are grounded in ethical practice that promotes unconditional positive regard and cultural humility towards themselves and their clients.

LIBERAL ARTS PROGRAMS

Liberal Arts Programs

SNHU's Liberal Arts department at embraces both passion and practicality within our many diverse undergraduate and graduate programs, such as Communication, Creative Writing, Digital Photography, English, General Studies, Graphic Design, History, and Liberal Arts. Our mission is to guide our students' exploration of the human experience to enrich their journeys as dynamic global citizens. In doing this, we foster the development of practical skills, leading to success in their chosen professional paths. We cultivate a passionate community that practices respect, collaboration, creativity, leadership, and communication.

Regardless of discipline area, a Liberal Arts education challenges students to expand their minds while encouraging empathy and self-reflection. Liberal Arts promotes objective examination of new ideas and thoughts and helps incite creativity and the development of critical problem-solving skills. Liberal Arts students sharpen their communication skills for different audiences in a variety of contexts and formats. Students learn to question assumptions in the search for truth. Emboldened by their Liberal Arts education, our students have a meaningful impact on their local and global communities, as they imagine and bring about a better future.

Social Science Programs

SNHU's Social Sciences department empowers and supports students to transform their lives and the lives of those around them through high-quality and innovative educational practices that enrich their knowledge and skills in the helping professions. Students apply their knowledge of human behavior through our programs in Anthropology, Criminal Justice, Human Services, Political Science, Psychology, and Sociology.

Our programs provide students with insights at the individual, societal, and global levels in order to create a richer understanding of multiple perspectives and cultures. Students also hone their skills in analysis, critical thinking, problem-solving, communication, ethical reasoning, and professionalism.
