SNHU Accounting Degree Programs

Bachelor's in Accounting

This program offers the most complete preparation for pursuing a career in public accounting and sitting for the CPA exam.

Bachelor's in Accounting/Finance

This dual degree program combines the complementary disciplines of accounting and finance. It provides a good foundation in finance and the accounting background needed to sit for the CPA exam.

Bachelor's in Accounting/Information Systems

Interested in numbers and technology? Gain a competitive edge by getting the accounting knowledge you need to perform and the technical literacy to help companies efficiently reduce the risk of fraud. Learn how to design, develop and improve accounting information systems.

Volunteer Income Tax Assistance Program

Gain practical tax preparation experience and build your résumé when you become an IRS-certified volunteer for the SNHU Volunteer Income Tax Assistance program.

Career Outlook

All types of for-profit and nonprofit organizations need the knowledge and insight provided by skilled and ethical accountants. Graduates will have knowledge of accounting procedures, regulations and ethics, and skills in communication, information technology, teamwork and problem-solving, enabling them to make an immediate contribution in the workplace.

According to Job Outlook 2010, accounting is the most in-demand occupation in the Northeast. Employment is expected to grow by 18 percent by 2018, according to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics. Opportunities for graduates exist in private industry, government, nonprofit institutions and the international arena.

Career options include, but are not limited to:

- accounting
- auditing
