Bachelor of Science in Hospitality Business

The hospitality and tourism industry is huge – one of the largest employers in the United States and, according to the American Hotel & Lodging Association, even bigger abroad. In fact, in many countries hospitality is virtually the only industry, essential to the economy. It's a field demanding a constant supply of bright, well-educated professionals.

Southern New Hampshire University's Bachelor of Science degree program in hospitality business equips students with the knowledge and skills to succeed in management-level careers in this dynamic field. Moreover, as a student in the program you'll also develop the knowledge and skills to become a successful entrepreneur or small business owner.

Students graduate with more than a great education

Students in our hospitality business program acquire a depth and breadth of knowledge that prepares them for a host of careers in such fields as lodging, food service, club management and the airline and cruise industries. But they also graduate with meaningful credentials – academic and professional portfolios and 1,000 hours of solid, hands-on field experience that ensures they leave SNHU confidently prepared for entry-level management jobs. And the knowledge acquired in the hospitality business program transfers to any business sector.

Since SNHU faculty and alumni provide a powerful network, with terrific industry connections, it's not surprising that 90 percent of hospitality graduates already have lined up jobs when they graduate. SNHU alumni can be found enjoying successful management careers at the Boston Sheraton, Country Inn & Suites, Best Western, the Copley Square Hotel, the Boston Park Plaza Hotel & Towers, Hilton Hotels Austria, and many other prominent hotels and resorts, all over America and abroad.

Join them. Become a student in SNHU's Bachelor of Science program in hospitality business and get ready for your own rewarding career in this exciting field.
