

Teach Globally

Master of Science in Teaching English as a Foreign Language

SCHOOL OF BUSINESS
Online and On Location

Southern
New Hampshire
University

Go Teach English Worldwide

Master of Science in Teaching English as a Foreign Language

Earn the credentials you will need to teach English around the world and close to home with a Master of Science in Teaching English as a Foreign Language from Southern New Hampshire University.

This program, offered at our main campus in Manchester, N.H., can be completed in as little as 12 months. A track for New Hampshire teacher certification, reciprocal in most states, is available.

The program is designed specifically for people teaching or intending to teach English in foreign school systems, but also is of value to anyone interested in English as a second language.

The MS in TEFL:

- includes 11 courses plus a teaching practicum (total of 36 credits).
- blends instructional theory with practical skill development.
- incorporates methods for teaching children and adults.
- integrates ESL and EFL teaching methods.
- offers opportunities for gaining real-world teaching experience in the community.
- provides opportunities for observing the ESL courses taught in the SNHU Institute for Language Education.

MS in Teaching English as a Foreign Language – Why SNHU?

SNHU is the most internationally diverse campus north of Boston, with students, faculty and alumni from more than 70 countries.

We have an 80-year history of educating successful professionals. We've earned Best of Business, Best Buy and other prestigious awards.

- Earn your MS in TEFL in one year.
- Gain real-world experience in the community.
- No upfront payment with employer tuition reimbursement.
- No GRE or GMAT required.
- Curriculum designed specifically for educators.
- Meets New Hampshire certification requirements; reciprocal in most states
- A traditional, affordable, Tier 1 private university.

MS in Teaching English as a Foreign Language – Industry Outlook

The demand for English instruction in other countries is widespread and growing, as English is increasingly becoming the common language in many businesses and professions and often is required in foreign schools.

Positions are available in foreign school systems around the world. Opportunities for teaching English as a second language are increasing in the U.S. as well. The U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics predicts faster-than-average growth for this sector.

Accreditation

The New England Association of Schools and Colleges
New Hampshire Postsecondary Education Commission
New Hampshire State Department of Education for Teacher Certification

The Association of Collegiate Business Schools and Programs
The European Council for Business Education

Southern
New Hampshire
University

Southern New Hampshire University
T: 1.888.387.0861 | www.snhu.edu
enroll@snhu.edu

snhu.edu
on campus. on location. online.