Dear graduates, families, and friends,

I'm thrilled to be celebrating with you at my first Commencement as president of Southern New Hampshire University.

We are recognizing an amazing 26,000 graduates this fall. Congratulations to each of you! I hope you take a moment to reflect with pride on all you have accomplished. It took a great deal of commitment and perseverance to reach this milestone. As a first-generation college graduate, I understand the importance of lifelong learning and how earning your college degree can unlock opportunities for ourselves, our families, and our communities. I can't wait to see what you accomplish next.

I also want to thank the families and friends celebrating our graduates with us. Your encouragement and support helped make this day possible.

Enjoy your celebration, and congratulations to the Class of 2024!

With gratitude,

A TRADITION STEEPED IN HISTORY

COMMENCEMENT PROCESSION

A procession of the various participants begins and ends our formal commencement ceremony. Individuals are arranged to reflect the order of academic rank in the hierarchy of the traditional European university.

At SNHU, the Mace Bearer leads the procession. He or she is followed by the Faculty Marshals, the Platform Party, and then the Faculty of the schools arranged in order of seniority, beginning with the senior faculty. The procession is concluded by the degree candidates. They enter in groups representing their schools/units, led by a gonfalon (flag) and walking in rank.

CEREMONIAL MACE

The mace was first used as a weapon. The word comes from the Latin ‘mateola,’ meaning mallet or staff. It consisted of a long club with a ball of steel or brass at one end. As newer weapons came into use, the mace lost its prime purpose as an instrument of war; however, it had become a symbol of authority and power. Universities in Europe with roots in the Middle Ages adopted maces as symbols of authority and unity. Since then, other institutions of higher learning have come to use the mace in their ceremonies.

Southern New Hampshire University commissioned David Elwell, a New Hampshire silversmith, to create a mace to commemorate the university's 50th anniversary commencement. This mace is made of brass, aluminum, copper, and bronze, with a staff of ebony and African padauk.

THE PRESIDENTIAL MEDALLION

The Presidential Medallion, worn by the president with academic regalia, is a symbolic representation of the authority and responsibility vested by the university in the president. It is a symbol of office that dates from medieval times and is worn by the president at all ceremonial occasions.

The Presidential Medallion is a permanent possession of the university and is presented to successive presidents at their inaugurations by the chairman of the Board of Trustees. The chain and medallion are fabricated from sterling silver. The university emblem, in relief, is the central design on the medallion. It is surrounded by a border of entwined wires, similar in texture to the chain links, and finished with a square raised edge. The heavy, twisted links of the chain bear four oval plates on each side. The background of the entire piece is oxidized to highlight the relief design and textures. The names of those who have held the office are engraved on the reverse side of the medallion.

The Presidential Medallion was designed and fabricated in 1987 by award-winning New Hampshire metalsmith Jacquelyn Ferrency of Milford.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

The academic costume worn today originated in the universities of the Middle Ages, when a warm gown and hood were useful for scholars and clerics in unheated buildings. The distinctive gowns served to set students apart from their fellow citizens, hence the perennial controversy between ‘town and gown.’

Until after the Civil War, students at most American universities wore caps and gowns daily while in residence. These varied in design until they were standardized by the American Intercollegiate Commission in 1894. At that time it was decided that all robes would be black; bachelor’s gowns would have long, pointed sleeves; master’s gowns would have long, closed sleeves with slits for the arms at the elbows; and doctor’s gowns would have very full, bell-shaped sleeves, each with three velvet bands matching the velvet facing of the gown opening.

The length of hoods varies with the degree. The lining of the hood indicates the university by the colors. The border of the hood indicates the academic discipline in which the degree was earned.

Students who have studied abroad for one or more semesters will be wearing a sash with the colors of the flag of the country where they studied. The sashes are issued to signify the university's commitment to provide students with opportunities for acquiring international and cross-cultural experience.

Undergraduate learners that have received ceremonial and/or Latin honors will be wearing a gold cord.

Graduates that are serving in the military or are veterans will be wearing red, white and blue woven cords in recognition and appreciation of their service.

Graduates that served on Student Government Association will be wearing blue and white woven cords.

Participants in campus Undergraduate Research Day will be wearing a light blue cord.

Graduates that have provided academic support as peer educators will be wearing a royal blue cord.

Many cords are representative of membership in a recognized National Honor Society; a full list is found on subsequent pages.

The colors for academic fields established by the American Council on Education include:

Agriculture	maize
Arts, Letters and Humanities	white
Business, Commerce and Accounting	drab
Dentistry	lilac
Economics	copper
Education	light blue
Engineering	orange
Fine Arts	brown
Forestry	russet
Journalism	crimson
Law	purple
Library Science	lemon
Medicine	green
Music	pink
Nursing	apricot
Oratory	silver gray
Pharmacy	olive green
Philosophy	dark blue
Physical Education	sage green
Public Administration	peacock blue
Science	golden yellow
Social Work	citron
Theology	scarlet
Veterinary Science	gray

(Caps and gowns representing degrees from foreign universities may be quite different from those described. The most obvious difference may be in the cap, which is often a soft, round hat of the style worn by medieval scholars.)

Greetings President Ryerson, Board of Trustees, distinguished faculty, staff, my beautiful family, friends and of course my fellow graduates.

I stand here today, excited not only to celebrate our collective accomplishments, but also to share my educational journey with you, in hopes that my story resonates and creates a meaningful connection between us.

In 1997, my educational journey began to change with a 504 plan implemented in the third grade due to anxiety. By 2001, I was placed on an IEP in seventh grade for severe ADHD and anxiety. My middle and high school summers were spent in summer school, struggling just to keep up. In 2005, after failing yet another test, one of my teachers pulled me aside and said to me, "It's okay, some people are just born inept." Those words not only stuck with me, they haunted me, as I attempted to pass a standardized test, failing seven times before finally succeeding on the eighth in 2007; meaning I would be able to graduate high school. In 2008, my first attempt at community college ended in failure after just one term. At this point, I accepted my fate as someone who was simply 'born inept'.

But everything changed when I began working at my town's local YMCA before and after school program. I became a role model to kids – something I never imagined to be possible. My closest friends, colleagues, and family believed in me and encouraged me to invest not only in myself, but for future students I may teach some day; and for the first time, I truly did begin to believe in myself. What once was a loud, haunting, inner voice reminding me that I may just be born inept, became a faint whisper. Replaced with the phrase, "You can do hard things."

In 2015, I decided to take a chance on education again, enrolling at Southern New Hampshire University. My nervousness was met with support from my teachers and advisors, who were with me every step of the way. They didn't just provide academic guidance; they were with me through every challenge, every doubt, and every victory, becoming an essential part of my journey.

Each of us here today has their own unique journey, but one thing unites us all: the profound transformation we experienced while pursuing our education at Southern New Hampshire University. For many, this moment represents more than just earning a degree – it's the realization of our potential and the growth of confidence we may not have had when we first enrolled. And, of course, there's one other thing that united us all: those Sunday night deadlines. If there's one lesson we've mastered, it's that nothing quite sparks motivation like 11:58 p.m. on a Sunday! But beyond the assignments, SNHU became more than just a place to study for all of us. It became a community – a place where individuals from all walks of life found belonging, support, and the encouragement to strive for more.

The experiences shared by this class highlight SNHU's commitment to more than just academics. It's a place that fosters personal growth, instills self-belief, and nurtures dreams. The diversity of paths and challenges faced by each graduate here today speaks to the university's unwavering belief in the potential of every student. Southern New Hampshire University is where many of us have discovered not just knowledge, but a renewed sense of purpose, confidence, and the belief that our future holds endless possibilities.

Congratulations to the Class of 2024! Together, we've proven that the impossible is quite possible.

SARAH ELIZABETH BOURQUE

Bachelor of Arts, Summa Cum Laude

Good afternoon, President Ryerson, Board of Trustees, distinguished faculty, honored guests, proud family and friends, and of course, the amazing graduates of S-N-H-U's, class of 2024. My name is Sarah, and I am beyond honored to be standing here tonight.

As we gather to celebrate our dedication and perseverance, I find myself reflecting on the incredible journey that brought us here. We come from all walks of life, united by our strength. We are mothers, fathers, sons, daughters, spanning generations. We are resilient, bold, driven. We are S-N-H-U.

Our journey hasn't been easy. We've balanced families, jobs, countless responsibilities all while chasing our dreams. But strength alone isn't enough. We need the courage to step into the world and apply what we've learned. As an 8th-grade special education paraprofessional, I often remind my students: talent alone isn't enough—it's working hard that truly matters.

I never expected to be here. Growing up the youngest child of parents struggling with substance use disorder, I thought my life would be a constant struggle. My plan was to escape through talent. You see, I was an incredibly gifted soccer player, but at 14, I was diagnosed with lupus. Overnight, everything changed. In pain, scared, without guidance, I was recklessly prescribed medication which led to severe addiction.

By senior year, I had missed too much school to graduate, my life was unraveling. I attended the ceremony anyway with roses for my friends. Watching them walk across the stage I felt hopeless, believing I was destined to follow my parents' path. I didn't realize my inner strength and determination would ultimately set me free. I found the support I needed to get well but still didn't believe in myself.

Years passed and inspired by my amazing husband and two sons – Hi Greg, Cobe and Reis! – I decided to return to school. I wanted to show them the power of hard work and determination. Four years later, I now hold a degree in psychology with a concentration in addictions. My dream is to become a mental health care practitioner. I stand here for everyone in recovery, for working parents, for anyone who has ever doubted their worth.

As you leave here tonight, remember each small step brings you closer to your goals. Use your experiences to guide you and always remember, the only way to move a mountain is one step at a time. Share yourselves with the world, dream big, and never forget, we can do hard things. Where faith stands strong, fear has no power. Let that be a light for you when times get dark, because there's no doubt that dark times will come. That's okay. It's in those moments of difficulty that we learn to truly value the joy and success that follow.

As you leave here tonight, remember each small step brings you closer to your goals. Use your experiences to guide you and always remember, the only way to move a mountain is one stone at a time. I'll leave you with a quote from the greatest player to ever step onto the pitch - Pelé: "Success is no accident. It's hard work, perseverance, learning, studying, sacrifice, and most of all, love of what you're doing." Congratulations, S-N-H-U's class of 2024. We've accomplished something amazing together. Go share your amazing selves with the world. We are S-N-H-U.

RECESSONAL

STUDENT SPEAKER

CEISLEY JEFFERSON

Master of Science

Good morning, President Ryerson, Board of Trustees, esteemed faculty and staff, family, friends, and most importantly, the graduating class of Southern New Hampshire University.

I need to give my mom a moment to get her phone ready. Just like all of you, this is the first time my parents are hearing this speech. Mom and Dad, I bet you've been wondering why you were led through a different entrance and why I've been on stage like I'm hosting a talk show. Surprise!

And let's give a huge shoutout to my son for keeping this secret. I had no idea how much ice cream it would take to bribe him into silence.

While my mom is getting her social media ready for my moment of fame, graduates, let's take a moment to wave to our friends and family. They've survived our dramatic "I'm quitting" declarations over the past few years. All of the guests here and watching on livestream have been our greatest supporters and cheerleaders.

Today, we celebrate not just an achievement, but a journey filled with determination, growth, and those caffeine-fueled, midnight meltdowns that had us questioning our life choices.

Each of us has a unique story on this educational journey. Mine came with an unexpected plot twist. On June 22, 2023, I suffered a serious stroke and spent eight days in the hospital. A few days after I was discharged, the next term of my program was beginning. My parents told me that I should, "take a break." Like any good daughter, I didn't listen. Two days into that term, reality set in, and I had to send my Academic Advisor that disappointing email that my parents were right.

During my time away from school, I attended physical therapy, struggled to remember simple words, and visited eight different doctors - one of whom said it was a miracle I could even speak. Finishing my degree felt impossible. Life kept telling me to "take a break," but we all know how that worked last time. When we face adversity, we have two choices: give up or get up. And if there's one thing I'm good at, it's not listening. Of course, I chose to get up.

In those challenging moments, we see how powerful we are. SNHU taught us more than facts and figures; it taught us resilience, grit, and how to thrive under pressure - qualities that will serve us far beyond these walls.

As Nelson Mandela wisely said, "It always seems impossible until it's done." Today, we are proof of that truth. We've managed jobs, families, and personal challenges, all while attending college. Some of us even had strokes, which I can tell you personally, 10/10 do not recommend. Yet, when doubt crept in, we chose not to listen.

To the faculty and staff who pushed us to aim higher, thank you (even when we didn't turn in our discussion boards). To the family and friends who cheered us on and kept us going, thank you. You are the unsung heroes of our success. And to my fellow graduates, let's embrace what's next with the same courage and tenacity that got us here. If we survived this journey, from terrible group projects to unexpected strokes, there is nothing we can't conquer.

As we leave SNHU, we must always remember that we are unstoppable. I would like your help ending my commencement speech. Please turn to the graduate next to you and say, "It wasn't a STROKE of luck, I earned this". Congratulations Class of 2024!

VIRTUAL STUDENT SPEAKER

NAQUIA JONES

Bachelor of Arts, Summa Cum Laude

Good afternoon, President Ryerson, Board of Trustees, fellow graduates, faculty, staff, family, and friends!

Before we begin, I'd like to invite everyone to take a moment with me. Close your eyes but only if you're comfortable and take a deep breath in through your nose... and out through your mouth. Let's run that back one more time... breathe in and breathe it out. Let's ground ourselves in this moment, fully aware of the incredible achievement we've just accomplished. Feel the weight of your hard work, the late nights, the challenges overcome, and let it fill you with pride and joy.

Now that we're grounded, let's talk about life's journey. Ten years ago, I personally embarked on this academic path with high hopes and big dreams like many of us. But then, as it often does, life...well, life LIFED. Life was, and always is, life-ing! It's that unpredictable roller coaster that throws curveballs when you least expect them. Careers took twists, families needed care, unexpected opportunities arose, and sometimes, obstacles just seemed insurmountable.

But here's a fact about us... we're resilient, and we're going to bounce back every time. Each of us has navigated our own unique set of challenges to be here today. We balanced jobs, families, personal struggles, and still managed to push forward. We logged into classes after long workdays, wrote papers while the world slept (I know I did) and studied during every spare moment we could find.

For many of us, finishing what we started wasn't just about checking a box or advancing our careers, though those are important. It was about restoring a confidence we hadn't realized we'd lost. It was about proving to ourselves that we could be everything we are for everyone else to ourselves and them while still achieving our own dreams at the same time.

Let's take a moment to acknowledge this together. This journey wasn't easy, and at times, it felt impossible. But here we are, because we adapted, we pivoted, and we persevered.

A special thanks to SNHU for not only providing an education but for reigniting a relentless passion for learning and personal growth. The instructors who believed in us, the advisors who guided us, and the classmates and alumni who inspired us... they all played a part in lighting a fire within that can never be extinguished.

To my fellow graduates, remember that life's challenges don't stop here. Life will continue life-ing. But if this journey has taught us anything, it's that we already possess everything we need to succeed. We've learned to adapt, to persevere, and to thrive amidst adversity.

As we step into the next chapter of our lives, let's carry forward the lessons we've learned, not just academically, but personally. Let's continue to support one another, to be lifelong learners, and to face challenges head-on with the confidence that we can and will overcome them.

In closing, take one last deep breath in and out while embracing this moment. We've earned it.

Let's go out there and keep making our dreams a tangible reality. And as life continues to life, let's remember to give ourselves grace along the way, knowing that we're prepared to handle whatever comes next. Congratulations, Class of 2024!

Counseling Programs

Counseling Programs

The mission of the Clinical Mental Health Counseling Program is to empower new generations of counselors by transforming the lives of our students, and through them, the lives of the clients and communities they will serve. To achieve this, we deliver innovative, experiential counselor education, create an inclusive environment, and nurture authentic relationships. We recognize that earning a degree in counseling is more than just acquiring a base of knowledge and theories; it is about developing an identity as a healer.

The journey from novice to expert counselor takes many years. The completion of a master's degree is just one step in that journey; yet today, the faculty and staff of the Counseling program at SNHU are proud to present these students who have, by their hard work and perseverance, demonstrated they are ready to take the next step in their journeys, well prepared to have a positive impact on the lives of others, and are grounded in ethical practice that promotes unconditional positive regard and cultural humility towards themselves and their clients.

Education Programs

Education Programs

Within SNHU's General Education and First Year Experience program, students demonstrate mastery of enduring skills embedded across the curriculum while investigating professionally relevant topics and authentic learning experiences through the lenses of humanistic, historical, social scientific, and empirical ways of knowing. By asking our students to study these worldviews, we intend to equip them with lifelong skills that enable them to interact through these lenses, make sense of the world and information around them, and analyze interdisciplinary connections within different modes of thought. This work is crucial in order for students to have a transformative college experience that fosters personal growth, encourages proactive engagement in their academic studies, allows for planning for their professional careers, and promotes individuals to give back to their communities.

Liberal Arts Programs

Liberal Arts Programs

SNHU's Liberal Arts department embraces both passion and practicality within our many diverse undergraduate and graduate programs, such as Communication, Creative Writing, Digital Photography, English, General Studies, Graphic Design, History, and Liberal Arts. Our mission is to guide our students' exploration of the human experience to enrich their journeys as dynamic global citizens. In doing this, we foster the development of practical skills, leading to success in their chosen professional paths. We cultivate a passionate community that practices respect, collaboration, creativity, leadership, and communication.

Regardless of discipline area, a Liberal Arts education challenges students to expand their minds while encouraging empathy, creativity, critical thinking, and self-reflection. Liberal arts students sharpen their communication skills for different audiences in a variety of contexts and formats. Students learn to question assumptions in the search for truth. Emboldened by their liberal arts education, our students have a meaningful impact on their local and global communities, as they imagine and bring about a better future.

Nursing Programs

Nursing Programs

Southern New Hampshire University's Nursing department views students in our online programs as respected colleagues who come to us with their own unique views of the world and nursing. At SNHU students are valued for the contributions they bring into the learning environment and are viewed as both learners and learning resources.

Graduates are prepared to be successful nurse leaders, who promote a culture of quality and safety within a diverse society and are responsive to meet the challenges of an ever-evolving health care system.

Social Science Programs

Social Science Programs

SNHU's Social Sciences department empowers and supports students to transform their lives and the lives of those around them through high-quality and innovative educational practices that enrich their knowledge and skills in the helping professions. Students apply their knowledge of human behavior through our programs in Anthropology, Criminal Justice,

Human Services, Political Science, Psychology, and Sociology. Our programs provide students with insights at the individual, societal, and global levels in order to create a richer understanding of multiple perspectives and cultures. Students also hone their skills in analysis, critical thinking, problem-solving, communication, ethical reasoning, and professionalism.
