VETERAN SERVICES

“For many years this institution has actively embraced students from the military. Our veteran and active-duty students have made the Southern New Hampshire University experience richer and deeper for all of us. We are proud to have them as an integral part of the SNHU community.”

-Paul LeBlanc, SNHU President

Unprecedented Veteran Services, Support and Opportunities.

Thank you for your service. We're truly honored that you're considering SNHU as the place to earn your degree. We're proud that more than 1,200 veterans and active duty members of the U.S. armed forces take courses at SNHU — and that we're among the top 15% of schools nationwide on the GI Jobs List of Military Friendly Schools®. In our ongoing effort to be the university of choice for veterans in New England, here are some of the benefits we offer:

All Direct School Expenses Paid

SNHU participates in the Yellow Ribbon Program. For eligible students, SNHU will contribute a portion of the tuition and fees that exceed the post 9-11 GI Bill benefit, and the VA will match that amount. In addition, if you're enrolled as a full-time undergraduate student at our main campus in Manchester, you may be eligible for a housing stipend.

More Veteran Services than Any New Hampshire School

You won't find another university in New Hampshire that offers more services specifically for veterans than SNHU. From admissions to disability services to counseling to academic advising to career development, we have dedicated resources to help you successfully transition to college, complete your degree, and move to the next stage in your life — whether that's with the military, in the corporate world, or in higher education as you pursue an advanced degree.

Access to the New Veterans Lounge

Unveiled in October 2012 — and managed by our Veteran Support Services Coordinator — the DeColfacker Veterans Lounge in the student center is a great place to relax between classes, learn about the next barbecue or pickup basketball game, and get plugged into all the on- and off-campus resources available. Some specific services offered on-site include academic help from a student veteran mentor and one-on-one counseling from nationally-certified peer support specialists.

New Army ROTC Program

Beginning in fall 2013, SNHU is launching an ROTC program. This extensive leadership training program offers opportunities for overseas learning experiences, stipends and scholarships, and commission as second lieutenant (reservist or active duty) upon graduation.

Opportunities to Join In and Stand Out

Just one visit to campus and you'll learn what makes SNHU truly special — the friendly, welcoming community of people who go out of their way to make you feel at home. Getting involved is easy. There are more than 50 clubs and organizations on campus, and if you're interested in connecting with other veterans, you can join our chapter of the Student Veterans of America.

Exceptional Academic Programs

Along with all of the support and services available, SNHU also offers more than 40 majors to choose from, including three-year and honors programs. All courses are taught by experienced professors who actually teach the courses themselves. This means their sole focus is you.

Next Steps

Now that you've read why SNHU is a great fit for veterans, why not see for yourself? Let us give you a tour of campus and introduce you to some of our student veterans and dedicated military staff members. To schedule a visit, please call the Office of Transfer Admission at 603.645.9687 or email transfer@snhu.edu.
