Hospitality Business program's requirement that you complete 750 to 1,000 hours of industry experience provides a bridge between your classroom experience and a career. This experience can include an organized internship or work in hospitality-related jobs. You also have the option of studying hospitality abroad for an academic year, semester, or summer to gain a global perspective on the industry and expand your contacts.

With a degree in Hospitality Business from SNHU, you will be qualified to work in a variety of hospitality industries: airlines, arenas, beverage distribution, casinos/gaming, conference centers, cruise lines, event planning, golf resorts, hotels, restaurants, retail, spas, stadiums, and wineries. Your required hours of industry experience enable you to explore a number of hospitality areas to determine your primary area of interest.

A network of SNHU alumni in tourism leadership positions around the world can help connect you with industry internship and career opportunities. They are familiar with the quality of the Hospitality Business program and often seek out graduates for positions. The program provides excellent preparation for a career in the field and can position you for an exciting and successful career in hospitality.
Gain extensive hands-on experience and the knowledge needed to manage the complex operations of the hospitality and tourism industry. Prepare for a fulfilling career in any number of hospitality areas, from lodging, food service, and club management to the airline and cruise industries.

Enjoy a balance between classroom learning and real-world practice in the SNHU Hospitality Business program approved by the Accreditation Commission for Programs in Hospitality Administration. Take a variety of business and hospitality courses and complete the required 750 hours (Degree in Three) to 1,000 hours (4-year degree) of work experience in hospitality-related fields. Choose a concentration in Convention and Event Management, Hotel and Resort Management, or Restaurant Management.

Through coursework, you will take part in a variety of hospitality settings that help you develop effective leadership, decision-making, conflict management, and interpersonal skills. You also will gain skills in planning, organization, time management, teamwork, problem solving, and innovative thinking. The knowledge and skills that you acquire prepare you to become a successful hospitality industry manager or entrepreneur.

SNHU Hospitality Business program faculty members are experts in their chosen areas and create classroom experiences that reflect real-world hospitality practices. They bring the benefits of their connections with industry and professional organizations and alumni to the program.

To learn more about the Hospitality Business program at SNHU, visit snhu.edu.

Bachelor of Science in Hospitality Business

BUILD your hospitality experience and resume with 750 to 1,000 hours of industry experience.

MEET the expected skill requirements of the American Hotel and Lodging Association.

EXPLORE a number of hospitality areas as you select your main area of focus.

ENGAGE in a rewarding hospitality career that showcases your leadership and management skills.

Earn Your Degree in Three Years

Earn your hospitality business degree in just three years through our innovative Degree in Three (Di3) program.

HOW IT WORKS:
- Participate in enriching out-of-classroom experiences that supplement coursework: guest lectures, organization site visits, networking events, career fairs, internships, professional development sessions, community events, board meetings, and more
- Analyze a local business or community challenge and develop a team-based solution
- Meet a few times monthly for faculty-led “huddle” discussions about Di3 experiences
- Reflect on the experiences in short written assignments
- Receive grades based on your experience and discussion participation and reflection assignments
- Graduate in three years (six semesters) without taking weekend, summer, or evening course

BENEFITS INCLUDE:
- Apply what you’re learning in the classroom to solve real-world challenges
- Graduate with proven skills and knowledge valued by employers
- Enjoy the full college experience: extra-curricular activities, athletics, and more
- Jumpstart earning a living or starting graduate studies, or spend a year volunteering, traveling, or pursuing a passion
- Save a full year in tuition and room and board (over $40,000)