NOTE: Military Spouse Benefits from SNHU are available for online students only.

Step 1: Apply at SNHU.edu as an online student or a traditional student.

- Apply at SNHU.edu as an online student. If you plan to attend as a traditional day student, please see the Traditional College for Veterans and Servicemembers. An SNHU representative will contact you, usually by phone, to confirm your application.

  - Inform your SNHU Admission Counselor that a) you’re the spouse of an active duty military serviceperson, or b) you’re planning to use your Survivors’ and Dependents’ Educational Assistance Program (DEA/Chapter 35) benefit.

Step 2: Submit paperwork documenting your prior education.

- Send your SNHU Admission Counselor an Attestation Form certifying you have a high school diploma or GED.

- If you are transferring credits from a post-secondary institution, your SNHU Admission Counselor will also need your transcripts. Just complete a Transcript Request Release Form to allow us to retrieve your transcripts directly from any previously attended civilian institutions on your behalf, at no charge to you.

Step 3: Acceptance and Benefits Processing

Upon acceptance to SNHU, your SNHU Admission Counselor will work with you to register for classes.

You’ll also be contacted by SNHU’s One Stop office to arrange financial aid. If you are using the GI Bill transferred from a spouse or parent, let your Admission Counselor know and refer to the GI Bill website regarding GI Bill Transfers.
To take advantage of the SNHU Military Spouse Discount:

- Provide a copy – both front and back – of your military dependent ID. Alternatively, you may provide a screenshot of your DEERS enrollment.
- Send this documentation to militarybenefits@snhu.edu after you’ve enrolled in your first class.
- To use your Chapter 35 Survivors’ and Dependents’ Educational Assistance benefit, contact your local military Education Office for help completing a Veterans Online Application (VONAPP).

Step 4: From Enrollment to Graduation

Once you’re enrolled at SNHU, you’ll be assigned a dedicated Military Advisor. Turn to your Military Advisor for help with any questions or issues you may have as you progress through your degree program.
